

Conference Sponsors

This conference is sponsored by the American Society of Law, Medicine & Ethics and the Network for Public Health Law with support from additional collaborating organizations.

The conference is generously funded in part by the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation.

American Society of Law, Medicine & Ethics (ASLME)

Where Multidisciplinary Education Improves Practice®

ASLME is a non-profit multidisciplinary educational association whose mission is to provide high-quality scholarship, debate, and critical thought for the community of professionals at the intersection of law, medicine, health care, policy, and ethics. ASLME provides a dynamic forum for its members to engage in a valuable exchange of ideas from a wide range of perspectives. ASLME achieves this goal through two nationally acclaimed journals, the American Journal of Law and Medicine and the Journal of Law, Medicine & Ethics, and by holding national symposia on topics of interest to its membership. ASLME is located in Boston, Massachusetts. Please visit www.aslme.org for more information.

The Network for Public Health Law

The Network for Public Health Law provides insightful legal assistance and practical resources on a wide range of emerging public health issues – all at no cost. The Network also provides a platform for public health and public health legal experts to share their own expertise and experiences.

Local, tribal, state and federal public health officials; attorneys; policy-makers; advocates; researchers and more are encouraged to join the Network to connect with each other and to get the latest information and resources on public health law. For more information about the Network, visit www.networkforphl.org.

The Robert Wood Johnson Foundation

The Robert Wood Johnson Foundation focuses on the pressing health and health care issues facing our country. As the nation's largest philanthropic organization devoted exclusively to improving the health and health care of all Americans, the Foundation works with a diverse group of organizations and individuals to identify solutions and achieve comprehensive, meaningful and timely change.

For more than 35 years the Foundation has brought experience, commitment and a rigorous, balanced approach to the problems that affect the health and health care of those it serves. When it comes to helping Americans lead healthier lives and get the care they need, the Foundation expects to make a difference in your lifetime. For more information, visit www.rwjf.org.